Outline Description	General Hospital
Property Description	Its foundation was laid April 5, 1930, and served as a general hospital up to 2007. Progress in the construction of the hospital was slow due mainly to technical difficulties in 1939, at the outset of the WWII, still incomplete, the work was suspended. By the late 1940s St. Luke's Hospital assumed its role as a general hospital. The main entrance of the hospital consists of gate with three openings which leads into an open space. The hospital consists of a number of massive blocks separate blocks interconnections with corridors. The buildings are pierced by vertical persiana windows on all floors.
